I am suggesting that any place approved off designated Trail ORV use occurs because of agency or contractor needs and they leave a public high/road that a sign be placed at this location during and after they leave the location informing the public that this ORV use is for official uses only by approved operators of ORVs. This sign needs to remain in place until the vegetation has grown back. This is needed so the public ORV users are not enticed to use the trail made by these folks and to inform all why there is an ORV trail there. The sign could be placed and maintained by the NPS or its contractors or any other agency that uses ORVs in such a manner.
